

CABIMER's SENIOR PI POSITION

CALL OF INTEREST

CABIMER (Andalusian Centre for Molecular Biology and Regenerative Medicine) is a research center created in Seville (Spain) in 2006 based on the principle of interdisciplinary research in Biomedicine incorporating the best of basic sciences to promote translational programs with national health systems. The ongoing program is nationally and internationally competitive and is supported by the Junta de Andalucía, the CSIC Spanish Research Council, The University of Seville and the University Pablo de Olavide.

CABIMER is seeking for a senior group leader in translational and regenerative medicine covering different aspects of molecular physiopathology, metabolic disorders or immune and cell therapies. The conditions of the contract are to be negotiated with the Foundation Progreso y Salud of the Andalusian Health Ministry. The successful candidate is expected to build an internationally-competitive team with national and international competitive resources. This is intended to be a long-term tenure-track position for leaders with active experience as a principal investigator.

Potential candidates should send a CV and a one-page summary of his/her research interests to direccion@cabimer.es

This first call of interests is open until April 30th, 2020.
